Minister's Message

Saskatchewan's construction industry is one of the major employers in this province and has a reputation for excellence that is second to none. We have the technology and expertise to do any type of construction required in Saskatchewan.

The Government of Saskatchewan recognizes the contribution that the construction industry makes to our economy. By assisting in the development of hospitals, special care homes and schools, this government is not only providing valuable services to the people of Saskatchewan, but also creating more opportunity for construction firms in this province.

This updated director lists Saskatchewan contractors and suppliers who form our construction industry. I encourage all project developers to use the local firms listed here as we continue to work together to build and diversify Saskatchewan.

Introduction

The Construction Services Directory is published as a convenient guide to industrial and commercial contracting services offered in Saskatchewan. The information is presented in three sections:

Alphabetical Listing 1

Construction firms are listed alphabetically, including location and telephone number.

Classification Listing 29

Construction firms are listed under standard trade division headings. Each trade has been assigned a six-digit number. The first two digits signify the trade division, the last four digits are Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Codes as developed by Statistics Canada (see boxed information). This section lists firms by trade division, including company name in alphabetical order, office location and telephone number.

Regional Listing 83

The province has been divided into seven (7) geographical areas as shown on the map. Firm names are listed by geographical area. Within each area, they are alphabetically listed by trade division. This section lists firm name, address, telephone number and contact person.

The information presented in this guide was obtained from each business by telephone in January 1986. Firms from which no response was obtained are not listed. The data was updated from telephone directory information in April 1988.
